1. Go to https://www.nist.gov/si-redefinition to explore latest realization of the SI system! Browse and learn more about history of metric units and how their definition evolved as science progressed.

2. As you read, make a list (in the space provided below) of unfamiliar scientific terms; I expect at least ten of those…

3. You may not have time to study every page of the above website, but make sure to visit https://www.nist.gov/si-redefinition/meet-constants to read about the fundamental constants of nature mentioned in the last Lecture.

4. Which fundamental constant is nevertheless somewhat "body part" based? 😊
