

Homework 26.

You have 3 ice cubes. First one is pure ice, second has a small steel ball frozen inside, the third one has a piece of wood inside. Each ice cube floats in a separate glass of water. What will happen to the level of water in the glasses after the ice is completely melted?