Review Problem

The picture below shows a track with a loop. Find the minimal height H (with respect to the top point of the loop), from which an object has to be released so that it stay on the track. The radius of the loop is R. The object slides on track without friction.