

Please read the following short story by clicking on the link

<https://www.mukilteoschools.org/site/handlers/filedownload.ashx?moduleinstanceid=183&dataid=731&FileName=6-All-Summer-in-a-Day-by-Ray-Bradbury.pdf>

This short story, “All Summer in a Day” by Ray Bradbury, provides well executed examples of how imagery is used in literature.

While you are reading, I want you to find 10 sentences that show Bradbury’s use of imagery. Each sentence you write must provide a DIFFERENT example of imagery. If you need to add extra sentences to complete an idea, that is fine, but it will not count as another sentence for your 1 out of 10 sentences. I hope that makes sense :) If you have any questions, you know you can write to me any time before Thursday night.

Do not write your homework by hand. Type it here and submit it for a grade.