

Homework 5 - 10/22

Advanced Eng. A1

Ms. Martocello

Recap Today's class we reviewed "Tell Tale Heart" and went over various figures of language, as well as the use of irony.

Figures of Speech:

Alliteration: repeating of consonant sounds right next to each other, which creates a memorable or melodic effect.

Example: She sells seashells by the seashore.

Metaphor: direct comparison of dissimilar things to create more vivid imagery or understanding.

Example: He was an onion; to understand him, she had to peel back the layers.

Personification: assigning human attributes to nonhuman things.

Example: The floorboards groaned under the weight of each step.

Simile: compares two dissimilar things using "like" or "as." The goal of simile is to give the reader a more vivid understanding of something.

Example: It was the first real day of summer, and by the time she came back indoors, she was as red as a tomato.

Types of Irony

Verbal irony: when someone says one thing but means another.

Situational irony: a literary or plot device occurring when there is a discrepancy between what is expected to happen and what actually happens

Dramatic irony: when the audience knows something that characters do not.

Homework:

New Story:

Read/Listen to the story of "The Raven" by Edgar Allen Poe and be ready to discuss in class.

Resources:

Story (print version)
click here

Story (audio version)
click here

Due: 10/29/2023

FAQ

Gmail:

Martocello@schoolnova.org

It is impossible to say how first the idea entered my brain; but once conceived, it haunted me day and night.