

Welcome to Computer Science 150!

I hope you all had a great summer and are ready for a new semester at SchoolNova.

I am very excited to teach CS150 this year and I think you will have great fun writing programs and games in Python, exploring different Python libraries and learning about AI/ML.

I ask of you to enable your video and audio and be active in class.

Please don't forget to join the class on Google classroom. Log into your SchoolNova gmail account and you should see an invitation email to join the class.

The Zoom Link we are going to use is:
